The situation in Columbia is unchanging. Gov. Hampton is gaining strength daily, even Blaine taking the ground that a new election is the only salvation for Chamberlain, and this President Hayes refuses to sanction. The large sum raised on account of the ten per cent tax has satisfied the North that the people of South Carolina are in earnest and that it is impossible to make them submit to his rule. The President is ready to provide for Mr. Chamberlain if he will "sacrifice his abstract rights for the sake of the peace of the community" and he is not the man to let slip the golden opportunity.

The citizens of Port Royal are working hard to raise sufficient funds to build their church. Many of our citizens have subscribed small amounts and many more who are able should lend a helping hand. These are more raw material in Port Royal, considering its size, for the Evangelist to work on than in any town we know of and we hope that the enterprise will be entirely successful. Mr. Arthur Hamilton will receive any contributions, and it is not necessary to wait to be asked to subscribe, but send what you can afford to give without further notice.

It will be seen from a letter published elsewhere that a meeting of the citizens of that neighborhood was held at Early Branch last Saturday to consider the question of the division of the County. There was not entire accord with the proposition to make the railroad the dividing line, and it will be found that there will be strong opposition raised against such a division by those living between the railroad and the salt water.

Still, there are many who feel that it is a mistake to divide the county, as it would entail on the tax-payers the expense of two county governments instead of one. There is no question but the location of the present county seat is a great inconvenience to a large portion of the people in the county, and it would seem that it should be more central, but it is just as well to count the cost before organizing a new county.

Mr. J. W. Wallace, a merchant of Augusta, who assisted Mr. Moody the revivalist during his stay in that city has been at Port Royal for several days and was induced to hold some religious exercises at the Mansion House. A party from this place numbering about thirty went down last evening on a special train and were so much pleased with Mr. Wallace's singing that they made him promise to come up to night, which he promised to do, and will sing in the Baptist Church.

Much profanity is indulged in by the officers on the small monitors on account of their sudden orders to move. There are not men enough on one of the ironclads to run them and it will be necessary to club together all their crews to move one. The officers who have their wives aboard and are nicely fixed are much troubled about the trip, but they have to obey orders without a word. It has been represented to Commodore Clitz that the health of the men must suffer in the Savannah river, but he declines to interfere and will carry out to the letter his orders. If we had a Senator in Washington of any consequence the true state of affairs might be made known but with only Patterson to look out for South Carolina she is worse off than if she had no Senator.

The Barnwell Sentinel thinks we are sold to the extent of our bill for publishing the Proclamation offering a reward for the arrest of the murderers of Mr. McIntire. We are pleased to inform our sympathizing contemporary that the "ad" is paid for at regular rates, although not by the State. Figure it up, 4 sq. 3t., and pray for some just like it. To-day we publish a proclamation from Gov. Hampton to the same effect, and as he has the money to pay the reward offered we expect to see the murderers soon arrested.

The whole disbursements by Gen. Hagerd amount to $37,794.69; and a considerable sum has been paid out for the public institutions. The Lunatic Asylum has received $8,449, the Deaf and Dumb Asylum $1,586, the State Orphan Asylum $1,000, and the Penitentiary $4,824. But for this help, the inmates of these institutions would have been in a starving condition.

The Harvey Mills salvage case opened in the United States Court in Charleston last Thursday. The first day testimony for the Huntsville was taken and on Friday the claim of the Agnes was heard and on Saturday the Steam Engine Co. put in their testimony. The case is not yet decided but the claimants are elated at the prospect of a large award. The claimants have consolidated their claims and the case is tried without any division which enables them to work together and with better prospects of success.

On Thursday President Hayes made his first appointment outside of the Cabinet nominations—that of Mr. Stone to be United States District Attorney for South Carolina.

That Fateful Letter.

COLUMBIA, S. C., March 10.—The following letters are made public to-day by Gov. Chamberlain at the special request of Stanley Matthews, and are the letters alluded to by Mr. Blaine in the Senate on the 7th inst.:

WASHINGTON CITY, March 6, 1877.—To Hon. D. H. Chamberlain, Columbia, S. C.—

MY DEAR SIR: I have not the honor of a personal acquaintance with you, but have learned to respect you from my knowledge of your reputation. I take the liberty of addressing you now, with great distrust of the propriety of my doing so, preferring it by saying that I speak without authority from any one, and I present only my own views. The situation of public affairs in South Carolina is too complicated to be discussed at length in a note, and yet impresses me as one that ought to be changed by the policy of Republican statesmen in such a way as not only to remove all the controversies that disturb that State, but to remove all embarrassments arising from it to the party in other parts of the country. It has occurred to me to suggest to whether by your own concurrence and co-operation an accommodation could not be arrived at which would obviate the necessity for the use of Federal arms to support either government, and leave that to stand which was best able to stand of itself. Such a course would relieve the administration from the necessity, so far as executive action is concerned, of making any decision between the conflicting governments and would place you in a position of making the sacrifice of what you deemed your abstract rights for the sake of the peace of the community, which would entitle you to the gratitude not only of your own party, but the respect and esteem of the entire country. I trust you will pardon the liberty I have taken, as my motive is to promote not only the public but your personal good. With great respect,

STANLEY MATTHEWS.

Appended to the foregoing letter are the following lines by Mr. Evans: DEAR GOVERNOR—I have read this letter, and conversed with Colonel Haskell and Senator Gordon on this subject so interesting to us all. I should be very glad to aid in a solution of the difficulties of the situation, and especially to hear from you speedily. With my compliments to Mrs. Chamberlain, yours very truly,

WM. M. EVARTS.

The President Interviewed.

A delegation of colored people from South Carolina, composed of Congressmen Rainey, Cain and Smalls, Judge Wright, Treasurer Cardozo, State Senator Maxwell and Col. Winton, called on the President last Friday. They give the following report of their interview: The President spoke with perfect frankness stating that he desired to remove the antagonism existing between the races, especially the political differences resting upon the color line, that colored men and Republicans might not need the protection of the army. He stated that the use of military force in civil affairs was repugnant to the genius of American institutions and should be dispensed with if possible. He, however, recognized the necessity of protection at present until that feeling of respect for the rights of political opponents should be entertained by the Democrats of the South. The President stated that with regard to the peculiar difficulties at present existing in South Carolina, concerning which the delegates expressed great anxiety, he proposed to preserve the status quo left by his predecessor and to examine the condition of affairs carefully and deliberately before he acted. The delegation then withdrew after expressing their thanks.

The New County.

EARLY BRANCH, March 10th 1877.

The citizens of this and the surrounding portion of Beaufort County meet to-day at this place pursuant to the call of the Pocolago Democratic Club. C. J. C. Hutson Esq., President of the club, in calling the meeting to order proposed its organization as a mass meeting, and that the Hon. Jas. E. DeLoach be requested to preside and Capt. J. H. Steinmyer Jr. act as Secretary.

Mr. DeLoach on taking the chair, made a few appropriate remarks, indicating the objects of the meeting, and the important matters to be submitted, and expressing his own views as opposed to the plan of division of the county contemplated in the proceedings of the recent meeting at Brunson. Mr. Hutson next addressed the meeting and submitted for its consideration a copy of the memorial adopted at the meeting at Brunson, which was sent him as the president of this club and as one of a committee to obtain signatures petitioning the next general assembly for a division of Beaufort county. In the memorial they ask that the Savannah and Charleston R. R. be the dividing line, and that the county then lying above that line be named "Palmetto."

penues incident to the large county and the distant and inaccessible location of the Court House, and thought the people of the lower portion of the county or Islands, would make greater objection to the removal of the county seat, than to the division of the county. He thought the people favored the division, and that their wishes should be considered. He, however, favored such a line as Maj. Screven proposed, a deep water line.

Others that expressed themselves did so in similar terms the evident desire being to work in harmony with those who had taken the initial in this matter, and at the same time avoid doing as far as possible any injustice to sections that might be affected, or operate against the general weal.

Maj. Screven said he had some resolutions he thought would meet the views of the people, and after placing them in a suitable and forcible manner he submitted the following:

Resolved, 1st. That a committee of five be appointed to confer with the memorialists and ascertain their views as to the removal of the Court House to a central location.

Resolved, 2d. That the line proposed of the Savannah and Charleston Railroad is an arbitrary one which excludes the richest agricultural portion of the county, with its fine water advantages for present and prospective commerce.

Resolved, 3d. That when the county is divided, we prefer the name of "Hampton." These resolutions were taken separately and each unanimously adopted. The committee appointed under the first resolution consists of Messrs. J. H. Screven, C. J. C. Hutson, Wm. Stokes, John W. Gregorie and Jas. M. McTeer. At the request of Maj. Screven, the mover of the resolutions, who gave his reasons for the same, Mr. Hutson was substituted for him as chairman.

On motion the meeting then adjourned.

Five Rear Admirals of the U. S. Navy have died since January 1st—Smith, Alden, Wilkes, Bailey and Davis.

The lower house of the Rhode Island Legislature has repealed the clause prohibiting the intermarriage of whites and blacks.

Judge Davis is, it is reported, worth the pleasant little sum of $3,000,000. In one Illinois county alone he owns fourteen improved farms.

Bruce, colored, is Chairman of the Senate Committee on the levees of the Mississippi river.

Dread is expressed that if Russia goes to war with Turkey, Germany will attack France.

The 76,070 miles of railroad built in the United States have cost $3,600,000,000.

W. H. Walden, who recently attempted the life of Gov. Packard of Louisiana, has been released on $5,000 bail and has arrived at his home in Philadelphia, in care of his father.

A military court at Matamoros, Mexico, has convicted Gen. Corina of kidnapping, the penalty of which is death.

Turkey now issues a circular to the Powers, asserting that Russia is at this time instigating insurrection in Ottoman provinces.

In Southwestern Georgia they have ordinary corn four or five blades high, and some of the early varieties as tall as an ordinary man's shoulders.

Seventy negroes are said to be in training in the College of the Propaganda, Rome, as Catholic missionaries to their native country.

A panic in the Church of St. Francis Xavier, in New York, last Thursday night, caused a rush of women from one of the galleries. In the tumult which ensued, six women and one boy were trampled under foot and killed.

LaPage, the murderer of Josie Langmaid has been tried a second time and convicted of murder in the first degree. He was sentenced last Thursday to be hanged one year from to-day—on March 15, 1878.

President Hayes is said to have telegraphed to Packard offering him the collectorship of New Orleans, provided he would "step down and out." Packard replied that he "would be Governor or nothing."

Joseph L. Lewis, who died at Hoboken a few days ago, aged eighty-six, accumulated property valued at more than $1,000,000, all of which he bequeathed to the Government to help pay the National debt. It is believed that he had no relations living.

Norfolk has become the second cotton port in the United States. How rapidly it has advanced may be known from the fact that, ten years ago, Norfolk exported only 638 bales of cotton to European ports.

Brigham Young, Jr., is organizing in Salt Lake City a company of five hundred Mormon families, which will colonize in Sonora, Mexico. The Mexican authorities have promised perfect religious toleration and large grants of land.

Some of the most delicate varieties of fish, which disappeared from the bays along the Southern coast, during the war are now returning. It is thought that the cannonading and torpedo explosions that occurred then, frightened them off.

Blaine now favors a new election in South Carolina and Louisiana. He is quoted as saying that he takes this ground "in view of the possibility that the President may not recognize Packard and Chamberlain." The President is quoted as saying with regard to a new election in Louisiana and South Carolina, that it is one of several propositions that have been presented, and the one that strikes him least favorably.

The elegant "Waldham" building on Bond street, New York, owned by Robbins & Appleton, also owners of the City of Port Royal, was burned last week. The loss of Messrs. Robbins & Appleton was about $50,000 which was nearly or quite covered by insurance.

The Presidential family will consist of President and Mrs. Hayes and three children; Webb C., aged nineteen; Fann E., aged eight, and Scott Russell, aged six. The two oldest of the four sons are from home, one of them attending the Cambridge Law School, and the other is a member of the junior class of Cornell University.

President Davaega has sold within the last week to home capitalists on advantageous terms $6,000 of York County bonds, issued in aid of the Chester and Lenoir Railroad, and $4,000 of the first mortgage bonds of the road.

Senator Hill has been placed on one of the most important committees of the Senate, the Committee of Privileges and Elections. This committee will be charged with the investigation of the Senatorial elections in Louisiana and South Carolina, and the legality of the Hampton and Nicholls governments.

The work of planting eucalyptus or fever trees along the right of way of the Central and Southern Pacific railways, recently begun, will probably occupy about two years. They will be set out in triple rows along the entire length of both roads, and along the branches as far as practicable. The principal object is to secure a constant supply of the best possible wood for telegraph poles and railroad sleepers, as well as an increase in the amount of rain fall.

Among the pleasant incidents of Inauguration day was the fact that when, after the delivery of his address, President Hayes was approached by the dignitaries, and, with outstretched hands, offered congratulations, he took no notice of them until he had first lovingly shaken hands with Mrs. Hayes, who sat near him. After this exchange of domestic courtesies, the president cordially shook hands with those on the platform.

Fourteen millions of dollars and over have been the profits received by four men in dividends alone, from the consolidated Virginia mine in Nevada, since February 1875! or about $5,265 each, every day. Just exactly why so much gold and silver should be poured into the laps of these individuals is not obviously apparent, yet many a poor man is just as happy as Flood or O'Brien, or Fair or Mackey, simply because his wife is cheerful and content in the possession of a Light-Running, noiseless "Domestic" Sewing Machine.

The New York World sensibly declines to go into the pouting business, after the example of the Sun.
